FRIDAY, MARCH 1, 1901.

Attention is called to the notice in this paper of a hearing before the committee on election of a town meeting at Weymouth, March 10. The matters concerned are thought by the committee to be of much importance and to deserve the attention of the public.

A. W. B.

The $100,000 paid Carnegie for his interest in the steel combine, together with the little sum he had before, will place him in a position to buy his daily bread and scatter a few more libraries over the country.

It is early in the race to talk of presidential candidates for 1904, but the Olympos has taken on good proportions and if it does not get idle tracked will be a factor in the future.

Last Monday seventy-eight Cadets graduated from West Point and the wonder is how so many survived to reach the graduation period.

The warrant for the town meeting is now before the people and affords a field for thought and study. It is a warrant of unusual length, 67 articles, and every voter should be familiar with it before the town meeting. There are the usual articles in the warrant calling for regular appropriations and there are many articles which may properly be called "special legislation." Should all of the articles regular and special, pass, there can be but little hope of a reduction in the tax rate unless we get an increase in the valuation.

Mrs. Carrie Nation, who was prosecuting her temperance work, and that the hatchet was sharper than the pen, has learned that the hatchet is sharper than the hatchet, and that while liquor joints and rum shops are a detriment to good order and the welfare of a community, one is hardly justified in using illegal means even for the suppression of illegal acts.

As the anti-slavery committee of New York retires from business, it may be presumed that vice in Greater New York is abolished, but the committee might retain its organization as an advisory board to other places.

According to the laws of New Jersey, the new steel company is chartered with a capital of $5,000,000 but may issue at once bonds to the amount of $300,000,000 which demonstrates once more the need of a national corporation law by which corporations in all of the states should be put on an equal basis for taxation and other purposes.

The states for town officers by census and nomination papers, are all made up and the voters will have a large field from which to select. Last year we cast 1912 votes and with weather conditions favorable the vote should be equally as large, and until next Monday night, we can all keep guessing on the result.

The election laws of the Commonwealth are always of interest to the voters, and a study of legislation in this line is the duty of every citizen. Elsewhere in this issue will be found ads. of hearings to be held at the State House next Wednesday which are of importance.

Expert turkey pickers make as much as $4 per day.

Kansas lost cattle to the value of $300,000 by blacking the past season. Vaccination at a cost of 15 cents a head would have saved them.

When the land gets in that condition where it will not grow clover, the man who owns it is in a hard fix. This condition prevails on the farms in many localities in the central states.

Congress is asked for $4,000,000 for the maintenance of the agricultural department in the pending appropriation bill. There is no money appropriated which brings the American people a larger return.

Drilled corn will yield about eight bushels and more than enough grain in the hill and the valley, and will be more uniform in size. This plan is to be recommended for clean soils—clover and blue grass soils—but where the soil is full of weeds it is better to stick to the hill system.

In the year 1890 England supplied her own people with all the bread and meats which they required. Now she is dependent upon other countries for a supply for ten months in the year. Her supply of wheat is derived as follows for 1900:

From the United States	23%
From Argentina	21%
From Canada	8-1/2
From Australia	7%
From Germany	6%

A very few years ago the farmer had to pay 10 per cent for money when he borrowed it. Many paid more, and the very cream of the farm's products were given away as interest. Money, meat, and grain were taken from the farmer, and undermost. Now the farmer is making his farm, if well managed, pay him 12 per cent on the money he has invested, while the grain and meat are being taken from him at 10 and even 5 per cent, and a tax-free just around the corner to grab 20 per cent of that.

Times have changed.

WHEAT. A new and young crop suited to any corn land is the sunflower. It has recently been demonstrated that the very finest of sun oil can be extracted from the seeds, and when the oil is recovered, it will give a value to this plant before unknown.

The Russian farmers grow immense quantities of the sunflower, using the oil on their many fast days, which probably accounts for the name. The oil of the sunflower seed has long been known for use in the poultry yard. Large crops can be grown with little trouble, as it is as easily cared for as corn. It is claimed to be worth 50 cents a bushel, and, as the rate is fairly stable, it causes no special annoyance.

"The rub comes when you get down to fractional currency." All kinds of amercian and colonial currency are to be reckoned with, and the government issues nothing less than dollars, but each civil department prints a species of shinplaster, ranging in face value from $1 to 50 cents. The government notes, in denominations of from $1 up, are generally accepted at five to one in gold or half that in "Mexican." In other words, 50 cent Mexican money equals 25 cents American, and, as the rate is fairly stable, it causes no special annoyance.

"To still further complicate things, the soldiers of each of the departments are totally different, and each department has its own currency.

"I fully appreciated the intricacies of the system. I was visiting a good sized mining town that happens to be directly on the boundary line between two departments, and the miners had to change their money every time they crossed the line.

"The miners were 40 cents, and I pulled out a handful of sollos and told the proprietor to help himself. He looked at them scornfully and said, 'no good.' But my friend, I presented him with a boy 17 years old, and $100 in cash with which I wish to help him. Shall I give him the money and start him in farming or shall I tell him to educate the boy? It is sometimes the case, that is not our department, we would give a good outlay of money, and if that boy is thereby made more pleasant and productive in every way. This is well worth thinking about."

THE CANNING BUSINESS. Whenever any line of manufacturing is found to be profitable a set of promoters and sharks will seize upon it and try to get into it in such enterprises. The west and far north for which we know the east as well as full of cannery wrecks, the work of these smooth tongued promoters, plants which cost from $4,000 to $10,000, and which are now worth not more than 200 milk cows in the territory covered and never would be.

The same thing has been and is now being done with the cannery industry, especially such canneries as are dry.

It is hoped that an effort will be made at the town meeting to keep the tax rate as low as possible. We hear upon every hand that it is too high for the good of the town. It is not so much on account of the actual increase in money that one pays in taxes as it is the effects of the high tax rate upon all property in the town and upon the business of the town.
It is hoped that some improvement in this respect may be made this year if it is possible.

A. W. H.

The town election is over, the smoke of battle has cleared away and we may now calmly consider the results which were in the main what was expected. We hear as usual some criticism of the selections made, but if we haven't got the best men in town in the various offices, it is a fault of the people who stayed away from the nominating meetings. Some new features entered into the campaign, notably so, in the case of the school committee.

For the first time in many years, there were women on the ticket and two of them, Mrs. Holbrook and Mrs. Spinner, made a good showing when the ballots were counted, and had the campaign for women been conducted on a right plan, there might have been a woman on the board, as there should be.

We are now looking forward to the Town meeting of next Monday, when 62 articles in the warrant will be acted upon.
This meeting will all be well, but have a tendency to be long and wearisome of the time. Weymouth will be an important one, and every voter should be there and work for the best interest of the town. We think that the manufacturers and stores will speedily suspend business for one day and give business men and employees an opportunity to take part in those things which affect taxes and town government.

Concert of Union Church.

One of the most enjoyable musical events of the season was the concert held at the Union Church of Weymouth last Friday evening under the auspices of the Social Club of the church.
A good audience was in attendance and the following well selected programme was rendered by Miss Edna Marie Gould, Appropriations.

The committee on appropriations organized with the choice of M. E. Hawes as chairman, and after two meetings, the appropriations asked for in the Town Warrant have completed the work and will recommend to the town meeting measures which will fix the tax rate at about $20.00 on the basis of last year's valuation.

In doing this there is the encouraging feature that the Town debt will be reduced $10,000 by the payment of a note which has once been renewed.

It is hoped that the assessors may be able to find a more appropriate property which will bring the rate below $20.

Third Annual Dinner a Grand Success.

Task Successfully Accomplished at Victor Metals Foundry.

The rudder for the Independence, Thomas A. Lovell's cup defender, was successfully cast at the Victor Metals Foundry Tuesday. Much care was taken in the construction of this important rudder.

The details of the affair were in charge of a committee of five consisting of President John P. Hunt, R. T. Hollins, F. P.
Hayward, A. D. Wilbur and W. S. Hollis, and they acquitted themselves in a highly commendable manner.

The interior of the club rooms presented a festive appearance, and the part of the evening was devoted to a reunion of all the members, past and present, of the Commonwealth Club.
The dinner was transformed into a reception hall, and here a reception of an informal nature was held until 8.30, when upon invitation of the committee in charge the parlor where an elaborate spread had been prepared by Hayes & Humphrey.

By request of the president, those present united in singing the national hymn before turning their attention to the temperance oaths which their wives were feasting.

The menu was as follows:
Blue Points, Radishes,
Turkey. Purée of Tomato, Cranberry Sauce,
Chicken Croquettes, Green Peas,
Potato Salad, Sherbet, Frozen Pudding,
Roux, Assorted Cake, Coffee.

A very pleasant social period was spent at the banquet, and then after cigar had been lighted, President Hunt, who acted as toastmaster, called the gathering to order and, after extending a hearty toast to the members, who assembled to witness the entry of the festivities of the evening, he gave a brief history of the club from the time of its organization, some eleven years ago, up to the present day. After dinner speeches were made by Selectmen John F. Dwyer, Representative E. W. Hunt, Hon. A. P. Worthen, Dr. G. D. Bullock, R. T. Hollins, J.
Wendell Gammons, president of the Commercial Club of South Braintree and T.
Hay Blanchard of the Wessagusett Club, North Weymouth. Pleasing musical entertainment was given by W. M. Mc-Kinney, P. B. Cook, Henry Blinn and Phillips Rogers in such a small measure as to make all the same comfortable and congenial.

The post-parliallary exercises concluded, billiards, pool and music were indulged in until a late hour, when the singing by the company of "Auld Lang Syne" brought to a close one of the most successful regular course by a post graduate course.

In the autumn of the year following the completion of his studies he was engaged to teach in the public schools of Marshfield where he remained two years.

In 1847 Mr. Hayden arrived in Weymouth where his wife died in 1850, and in 1855, Mr. Hayden was again married, this time to Miss Mary A. Herrick, who died in 1858. Mr. Hayden resides at present with his son's widow, Mrs. A. M. Hayden, of Main street.

Mr. Hayden told the Gazette that he had spent every year with two exceptions, since attaining his majority, of these exceptions was on the occasion of President Lincoln's first term, when he was out of town. He also stated that he had voted in every election since he had voted in the election of 1840.

Mr. Hayden's eyesight and hearing have been somewhat impaired by the advance of years, and he walks with a stoop, leaning heavily upon his trusty cane, by the aid of which he can walk with a good degree of comfort and independence. Mr.
Hayden is an honorary member of the Massachusetts Society of Sons of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Sons of the Weymouth Electric Light Company, and the Weymouth Club.

Mr. Hayden is no stranger in the lodges of this vicinity, being a member of the Widley Lodge No. 21, I. O. O. F., and having been affiliated with that organization in Weymouth for many years, and a member of the Shaw school, and also succeeded Col. Thomas on the building committee of the new high school.

Mr. Torrey is no stranger in the lodges of this vicinity, being a member of the

REMOVED TO THE POST OFFICE AT Weymouth
NAME, AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1901.

In the death of ex-President Harrison the country loses one of its most eminent men and one who had the confidence of the whole people. Although not, in all senses of the word, a popular man, Mr. Harrison was what is better, a sure and safe man to follow. There was no "zing" in his disposition as his consistent attitude on the questions of our new colonies showed. Not in sympathy with the present administration, politics is all that he was. Harrison was not a strong republican and stood steadfastly by his party. Like Senator Hoar he believed that reforms could be better worked inside the party than through its defeat at the polls. Mr. Harrison will be missed by his country and his party. By both his conservative, safe and unselfish counsel he was deeply appreciated.

It is to be presumed that the women of the town are somewhat disappointed by the result of the vote for school committee, but they have made a beginning and if they persist in their demands for representation, they will undoubtedly succeed in securing one or more members on the board in the near future.

On and after this date smalls will be one dollar each.

The public will be pleased to learn that Luther B. Marsh of Middletown, N. Y., has heard from Robert G. Ingerson and that he, Ingerson, is all right.

The world is full of people with a mission and some of them, like Mrs. Mary Sargent Melrose of Melrose who proclaims that little city of its dog's nuisance. Melrose is overrun with dogs, which tear up lawns and shrubbery, frighten women and children, and are a nuisance in general. Mrs. Haskins has our sympathy and we would welcome a branch of her mission to Weymouth.

There was a part of town meeting in Hall, East Weymouth, last Monday. We try to give a report of it elsewhere, but only those who attended will ever fully appreciate it. The meeting will be concluded in Odd Fellows' Opera House, East Weymouth, Saturday afternoon, and it is hoped those who have been hearing speeches for town meeting will observe the eternal fitness of things and have the speeches at the occasion as many of the speeches Monday were missed and forgotten on the shoulders.

In looking over our file of 1897, we find the following letter written by Rev. W. I. Ward and Rev. Daniel Evans, under the date of March 3. Thinking that at this time it will be of special interest to the citizens of Weymouth, we reprint it in full:

"HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

Moved by a sense of duty which has grown out of a sincere solicitude for the welfare and interests of the community, we have at certain times submitted to the public what we believe to be just and well-considered views of the administration of some of the officials of our town. Because we have no liking for such work it is the more pleasant to find that others are doing it, and in the interests of certain others of our public servants. The residents of the second ward have a lively interest in this subject, and we are anxious to protect this town against violations of our restrictive liquor laws. These officers are constantly and closely watched, their acts not only by us, but by many of our most friends. It is but just to say that Officers Butler and Fitzgerald have, by their faithful, vigorous and effective service, earned the confidence and esteem of the law-abiding and order-loving citizens. To their efforts, ably seconded and sustained by the efforts of the other officers of the police force, is largely due a marked visible improvement in this part of the town. It would be too much to claim that this is due to the efforts of the officers of the town. Because we have no liking for such work it is the more pleasant to find that others are doing it, and in the interests of certain others of our public servants.

Town Officers Organize.

The recently elected board of selectmen have organized, with the choice of Geo. N. Newton as chairman and the choice of H. Hawes as clerk.

The town committee at a meeting held Tuesday, organized with the choice of W. A. Drake as chairman and the following appointment of sub-committees: Text Books, George L. Wentworth, Bradford Hawes; Supplies and Purchases, Bradford Hawes; G. L. Wentworth; Fuel, Joseph Chase, Jr., T. John Evans; Teachers, Bradford Hawes, H. Franklin Perry; Repairs, Joseph Chase, Jr., T. John Evans; Finances, H. Franklin Perry, T. John Evans. The choice of secretary is still to be made.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

At the last meeting of the Lyceum, the question, "Should Capital Punishment be Abolished?" was discussed by five members of the junior class. No decision was given.

On March 22, the programme of the Lyceum will consist of a lecture on various topics in the town's interest for this year. This promises to be a very instructive and entertaining programme.

Yesterday night the junior basket-ball team defeated a team consisting of four seniors and one freshman by the score of 7 to 4.

A report has recently come from Dartmouth, that one of the boys who went from this school last September, has attained sufficiently high rank to win for himself a special scholarship.

ARE YOU A BUFFALO?

New Organization Becoming Popular in Weymouth.

Membership includes Men of All Professions and Occupations—Origin of the Order Unknown.

"Are you a buffalo?" When this question is asked you, you must look wise and reply by placing the thumb of your right hand in your ear and wiggling the fingers of your left hand expressively at him. If you meet a dead body of an unknown man lying in the icy water, they come upon the estate of the late Samuel Webb, Thursday morning, these signs are made by a hook of the forefinger of his right hand over his right eye, down to the tip of his nose, but answer by doing likewise for, he is simply challenging you to make the contents of this new society.

These signs may not mean anything to you but they are of the game and ignorance of what constitutes a Buffalo excuses nobody. If you would be in the procession to-day, you must be a buffalo.

The man who was a Buffalo is a new one, and originated somewhere in the "woolly west" the once happy home of the magnificent animal whose name it bears. Standing in the true sense of the word, a Buffalo, he is a great animal with a great heart.

He is a member of the Odd Fellows' button in the left lapel of his vest and on his left arm was tattooed the three links of the order.

Upon being questioned in regard to them he stated that he was a member of New England Lodge, No. 4, and New England Encampment of Cambridge. In his pockets were found a German edition of the by-laws of the International Bakers' and Confectioners' Union, a book of cooking receipts, and several bills made out to Martin Horn.

THE WORST OF ALL.
Again I hear that cracking step;
He's tapping at the door;
Too well I know the boding sound
That comes with such a roar.
I do not tremble when I meet
The stoutest of my foes,
But when I meet the friend
Who comes—but never goes!

He drops into my easy chair—
And sits about the news;
He holds his hand to his heart
And gives his candid views.
He tells me where to turn, (he And I are not the wiser,)—
He takes the strongest liberties,
But never takes leave.

When he's here he's that dreadful man—
Dreadful as I am to him;
I know that, like the automaton,
He'll hasten through the room;
I'll have to stand on my table
In vain I sowl and post.

A friend is not a friend
If he does not put him out.

I mean to take the knock off,
Put upon the door;
Or hold him when I am gone
To stay a while or more;
I do not tremble when I meet
The stoutest of my foes,
But when I meet the friend
Who comes, never goes!

"I am certainly growing up," said Mr. Alfred Whitman, as he buttoned his shirt over his shirtless torso, "thin and baggy. And, by George! there are crew's feet coming around my eyes."

He shaved himself vigorously for a moment, then paused with a rather ungracious face. "How do you do, Mr. Whitman? I am very pleased with the pictures last Sunday?"

"Why, you know when you know what a dog's life I lead?" The only man to me is that I am not blind and deaf and dumb and half mad and a glibbering idiot and a driving in-

Having delivered himself of this statement, Mr. Whitman appeared to have finished his airtight, and sat with his hands clasped behind his head, as though he were about to address the inevitable.

"To you know when you know what a dog's life I lead?" The only man to me is that I am not blind and deaf and dumb and half mad and a glibbering idiot and a driving in-

He seemed very cheerful as he descended the hotel stairs to his breakfast, but when his mail was handed to him once more a look of gloom veiled his freshly shaven ruddy cheeks.

"It's all over now," he muttered as he hastily tore open a note on thick blue paper, heavily perfumed and addressed in a big, scrawling fashionistic hand.

"Let me see you by 10 o'clock sharp," it ran. "I am to be done with these outrages or I shall be in trouble."

ENTERED AT THE POST OFFICE AT WEMYOUTH, MASS., AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1901.

With the gathering shades of last Saturday night one of the most remarkable town meetings in the history of Weymouth came to a close with the smoke of battle somewhat cleared away. It may be well to stop and review the situation. It was a meeting of personalities which may have been indulged in in other towns but never before in Weymouth and in many of those personalities it became almost a disgrace to hold any office in the town. Under the name of retrenchment almost everything which had been done in the town was wiped out, but the only material reduction was the entire shutting off of the street lighting system and up to date it is quite evident that this will be an additional expense rather than a retrenchment as the people will have the light even at the expense of another town meeting. The so-called retrenchment workers had some very excellent ideas and no doubt it would be a good thing for the citizens to get together and discuss all the affairs of the town with a view of curtailment of expenses where it can consistently be done without impairing the efficiency of our schools, police service and road department.

The Monday Club.

The Monday Club will hold a public meeting in the audience room of the High School building, East Weymouth, Monday, March 25, commencing at 3 o'clock. The speaker, De Witt Miller, is to be a strong stranger to a Weymouth audience; and a strong testimonial in his favor is the determination of those who have once heard him not to lose this opportunity of hearing him again. Mr. Miller is a most enterprising and his subject, "The Use of Utensils," is treated in a bright, witty and instructive manner.

As the meetings of the Monday Club are, in a way, for the benefit of members and their friends, this meeting has been arranged, that the public may also enjoy what will be one of the best in the season's meetings. Club members must show their membership tickets. An extra car will leave Weymouth at 2:15 o'clock.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Five new typewriters have been added at the High this week, to be used in instructing the scholars in that line. The machines are of the "Manhattan" A. type.

A combination basket-ball team defeated the team from the High school at Braintree High last Thursday night.

Mr. Boudoir '01 visited the school Wednesday.

A lecture under the auspices of the Monday club will be given in the High school hall Monday afternoon. The lecturer is to be Mr. DeWitt Miller.

RENOVATED POST 58, G. A. R.

There are chapters of history written and unwritten in the roster of Reynolds Post 58, G. A. R., just issued from the Gazette Press for the benefit of the members.

The chapter may be found the names of one hundred and eighty-three living men (less Edwin Walker who was buried yesterday) who responded to their country's call in the dark days from '61 to '65 and who saw active work in thirty-one different military and naval organizations.

In addition to the living there are the names of one hundred and fourteen who have joined the Grand Army on High since becoming members of Reynolds Post.

The post has few equalling the posts of the country in the importance and usefulness of its organization and work, but every year it becomes more and more apparent that thirty-five years ago was a long time and the ranks will grow rapidly less in the next five years.

Old Colony Club.

The next meeting of the Old Colony Club will be held on Thursday, March 28, in the Union Church, Weymouth, at three o'clock. The lecture will be given by Mrs. Margaret Deland, of Boston, subject, "The Duty of Happiness." This will be an open meeting, and the public is invited to attend.

has been honored with an engagement

the many friends of Mr. Sanborn in this

STREETS IN DARKNESS.

Light and Power Company Ordered to Shut off Street Lights.

Action Follows Adjourned Town Meeting—
Darkest Period in History of the Town.

As a result of the action of the citizens of this town, at the adjourned Town meeting last Saturday afternoon, whereby it was voted to indefinitely postpone the article in the warrant relating to the appropriation for lighting the streets, Weymouth is just at present experiencing the darkest period in the annals of the town, since Monday evening, our streets have been in total darkness. It is that which is happening that Weymouth has not always boasted of electric lights, but then its streets have usually been lighted by some means or other, and previous to the introduction of this modern method of illumination, one was aided in travelling after nightfall by means of the old fashioned kerosene street lamps. However those lamps have long since been removed and even that privilege is denied us, for the present, as the streets are now almost entirely bare, in order not to risk the danger of an evening hereafter, without first taking the precaution to arm themselves against accidents.

Be that as it may, one thing is certain,
and that is that during the past week
Weymouth has attained notoriety in a way that is not to be paralleled in any town in the state.

The many citizens who reside near the town lines are more highly favored than their fellow citizens in the center of the town, owing to the fact, that even though they are deprived of the privilege of electric lights in their own town, they are able to sit on their back door steps, and see away off in the distance a faint white glimmer from the lights of the neighboring towns. Hingham, Quincy, Rockland or Braintree as the case may be.

The many citizens of Weymouth, who have been established for many years, and have a home, have none but the light of the stars to guide them.

The first composition will be given by Mr. Percy Goetschius, a noted musician, who will travel during the evening hours, in order not to risk the danger of an evening hereafter, without first taking the precaution to arm themselves against accidents.

As she cannot make good cake with bad eggs,
no more can she make cake that is light, delicious and dainty with inferior baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for the preparation of the finest food. It imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness and flavor noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, doughnut, crusts, etc., which expert bakers say is unobtainable by the use of any other leavening agent.

At this season the housekeeper must look specially after the baking powder.

—Rev. F. H. Allen of the Rockland Congregational Church, occupied the pulpit at the Union Church last Sunday.

—There were some notable additions to the Baptist choir last Sunday evening. Every one enjoyed the duets by Miss Helen L. Salls and Arthur H. Murphy, while the solo by Fred B. Sterling of Keene, N. H., was one to be long remembered. The congregation was larger than usual, although no special features had been announced. The spiritual interest of the church as vindicated by the uniformly large attendance at the prayer meetings (forty-five last week) is very encouraging.

—The Union Literary Circle met Tuesday evening, March 12, with Mrs. Eleanor Holmes. Mrs. Mary Newhall read a very interesting paper on "American Painters and Sculptors." A solo was sung by Miss Angie M. Gutterson. The next meeting of the circle will be March 26, with Miss Emma J. Thayer. Quotations from the Koran.

—Our feature on our streets this week is an attractive lighting station which was recently purchased by W. B. Hollis & Son for their lighting business. The wagon is the most recent model, having a black body with carmine trimmings and running gear, and the wheels being equipped with rubber tires.

—Cut flowers at Jordan's.

In the afternoon fifty of the primary and other small boys and girls had a two hours' good time in the vestry, with games and refreshments, waited on by Miss Cora P. Graves and others. In the evening the older members of the school and their friends gathered under the direction of M. R. Wright, superintendent of the school, who gave reports indicative of prosperity. The programme included readings by Miss Leona P. Shaw, solo by Arthur H. Murphy, and singing by the Great Male Quartette of Brockton, all of whom received hearty encores. The members of the quartette and R. H. Kemp and Eugene L. Murphy, first and second tenors; J. H. Jones, bass; C. F. Winsor, second base. Refreshments followed.

—Famous Perry pictures at Jordan's.

—Surprised on her Birthday.

—Mrs. Charles J. Hollis of Phillips street was given a very agreeable surprise Monday evening when a large party of friends called unexpectedly to assist in making the twenty-sixth anniversary of her birth a memorable occasion. Relatives and friends to the number of about thirty-five were present, and the evening was most enjoyably passed with vocal and instrumental selections, etc. During the evening a bountiful collation of ices, cake, and fruit was served by the hostess, who in turn was presented with many beautiful and costly souvenirs of the occasion.

TO AN OLD CLOCK.

Old clock, if you've come here to give advice
About Time's Right
And think to save us with your wheels, think twice
To sleep tonight.

Dull prattle of dreary, weary crew
The limits of our patience you exceed
And make us tired.

No need for you to tell the lase of life
Who made you unripe, holding us to strife
By calling "Time?"

You stand there, like a Pharisee of yore,
Proclaiming grace before
With two fingers, before
Your mouth, I see.

Although you know the time of day at home,
Betwixt the hours, when in Ross

Tomorrow breaks.

And somewhere in Mars or Mercury, no doubt
It could speak when you're thus piling

Up to us to make the evening hours wait.

"Tis Tuesday week."

White one 'tether side of space (maybe You'd call it slow) is marking the time now, but Six weeks ago.

No get day with humble sons of men,
As some clocks do;

One day your wheels will slacken up, and then they sought as bloodhounds, but for hours to come, the helped task to save this ruined vessel tide by either words or deeds.

Stephen held up his hand, and the water were still to him.

ENTERED AT THE POST OFFICE AT Weymouth,
MASS., AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1901.

Programs of Easter services are invited for next week's issue.

Dark Weymouth, Crime Stricken. Such was the flaming heading of an article in one of Boston's leading dailies. And the article went on to tell of a burglary and other crimes which were liable to have been even when well lighted. And the whole inference and evident intent of the article in question is that because Weymouth has no street lights it is an unsafe and undesirable place to live in. Now the fact is that Weymouth is as safe a place to live in today as it ever was. There are no more burglaries than have occurred at times for many years. The street lights never have been burned after 12:30 o'clock, and the police and the city and criminal authorities are called to be informed that. That such articles injure the town in its reputation abroad and in a general and sentimental way is a fact. It is very unfortunate that the town has taken this backward step in regard to lights, but because the town and the light company are in controversy over what constitutes good lighting according to the contract, and because the town temporarily goes without light while matters are in process of adjustment, is no excuse for giving the town a bad "black eye" through the city press by announcing it as being a "crime stricken" place.

The letters in our People's Column show the interest that our citizens are taking in the light question. They will be read with pleasure. They are varied in sentiment and on both sides of the master.

The capture of Aguinaldo is perhaps the beginning of the closing chapter of the Philippines war. Let us hope so and that the blessings of peace will be long preserved to our island possessions.

The town needs street lights. It can hardly afford to be the only town within 25 miles of Boston that is in darkness. The question is one, of course, of dollars and cents as between the company and the town, and the town wants full value for its money, but it would seem that these questions might be settled in a spirit of cooperation by the selection, without cutting off the appropriation entirely and leaving the town without lights.

W. W.

We are one week farther removed from the town meeting and the exciting debates attending it. We have endeavored to give a fair and impartial report of the meeting and we are still of the opinion that one of the most unfortunate things which was done was the cutting off of the lights. A few claims that we are just as well off without the lights and it is a big saving to the town. Those who claim the service has been far from satisfactory and a new deal should be made.

In answer to the first claim which represents a very small minority, the argument does not hold good as applied to the present age and conditions of society, but it might have answered a hundred years ago with a small population which was seldom abroad after night and all were old citizens who were familiar not only with every person they met but with every stone and brick.

In regard to the second reason of complaint, that there is no reason in it there is no reason why the service should be cut off at the risk of serious accident and great inconveniences. The same argument might be applied to every department of the town. We have one of the best water systems in the world. It has had water system days and at times some one has complained of real or imaginary grievances. Our roads are up to and ahead of most of the town roads in state, yet there is some reason where they have been open to serious complaints. In schools we have few equals as to equipments and corps of teachers, yet they are not without their faults and the same rule applied to each and all of these which was applied to the electric lights would cut off all appropriations.

In view of all these facts we think the lights are as necessary as schools, roads, water or any other feature which makes life worth living, and the sooner we get back to lights the better it will be for the town.

An article in the People's Column of this issue in regard to the by-laws of the town is one of the best digests of the situation we have heard. The particular section of the by-laws in regard to the winter refresher, which will certainly not be equal to the summer refresher, is indeed capable of the most absurd and ridiculous construction and such is the use which has been made of it.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Marble-Pray Nuptials A Charming Affair. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pray of Broad Street, Weymouth, was the scene of a pretty home wedding on Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Nellie E. Pray, was united in marriage to Mr. Cecil H. Marble of Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Marble of Harmony, Maine.

Over two hundred invitations had been issued and the ceremony was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the spacious parlor which were elaborately decorated with evergreen, palms, ferns and cut flowers.

The matrimonial knot was tied by Rev. Henry A. Alford of the Old South Church, South Weymouth, of which the bride is organist, assisted by Rev. Frank C. Crossley of the Baptist church.

The bridal party entered the room and took their places under a beautiful arch and floral bower, to the strains of Lohengrin, a wedding march, by Mrs. L. W. Atwood of South Weymouth.

The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of white satin muslin trimmed with valenciennes lace, and wore a veil trimmed with orange blossoms and caught with a diamond brooch. She carried a bunch of bride's roses and was attended by Miss Grace M. Randell, who wore pink swiss muslin trimmed with pink roses, and carried white pink.

Mr. Carleton A. Perry of Boston performed the duties of groomsman. The bride's maids were two young maidens, one dressed in white swiss muslin and carried a basket of roses, the contents of which were strewn along the path of the bridal party. Master Irving Bates served as page.

Mr. Frank A. Pratt, brother of the bride was master of ceremonies, and the usher were Messrs. Edward E. Swain of Boston, Guy Richardson of Boston, Fred Goodwin of Charlestown, Charles Kelley of Boston, Alfred Downey of Boston, Lewis D. Jackson, and Arthur H. Moore of Weymouth.

The marriage ceremony was followed by a wedding supper and reception. Mr. and Mrs. Marble being assisted in receiving by the maid of honor and the groomsman. Many beautiful and costly gifts testified to the esteem in which both the bride and groom are held in this and other towns.

The honeymoon will be spent in New York and upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Marble will reside on Broad Street, the present home will be at home to their friends on and after April 15.

HONORS EVENLY DIVIDED.

Commonwealth and Wessagussett Club Take Two Events Each in Norfolk County Tournament.

The games commenced at eight o'clock and were played under the direction of the tournament committee of the Commonwealth Club.

DYSPEPSIA CURE

THE PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION AT BUFFALO
BY WILLIAM J. BUCHANAN, Times-News
BY COURTESY OF COLLIER'S WEEKLY

THE people of the republics and countries of Central and South America fully realized, in their minds, the importance of their countries in the Pan-American Exposition to be taxed beyond its limit to provide space for the exhibits that would come from those countries to enlighten the people of the United States and Canada concerning their neighbors to the southward. If, on the other hand, the people of the United States and Canada knew, to any appreciable degree, the value of their products for the public investment of money and energy which offer themselves in Central and South America, they would not require such exhibits to awaken their interest, nor would such opportunities long remain unknown or unopposed.

The Object of the Exposition.

The ideal had in view by those who planned the Pan-American Exposition and toward the accomplishment of which nothing is being left undone that energy and effort could suggest. If they would, for instance, but realize the significance of the one fact that a well bred, fat steer can be and is being produced in the Argentine Republic and exported to England at a price of $100 a carcass, as good mutton as the world can produce, while innumerable square miles of alfalfa fields dot the republic and furnish rice, cheap fattening material for 30,000,000 or more of cattle possessed by the country.

The advantages the people of the United States and Canada might obtain by grasping the true meaning of the above facts are too apparent to me many and value very much.

If they would, for instance, but realize the significance of the one fact that it is possible to do the same thing in either the United States or Canada—while a great advantage lies with the producer of River Plate mutton—they would realize the Argentine Republic and in Cuba, in all that relates to the participation of those countries in the Exposition, is most encouraging and promises a brilliant outcome. To this there is a great cattle zone in the South.

Great cattle zone in the South.

Many public men in South America are fully aware of the opportunities they see that the conditions in the United States are such and their development in manufactures is so pronounced that it can be looked upon as altogether probable that within the next ten years meat will be exportable to the people of the three Americas to become better acquainted with each other, and it will prove a very pleasant family reunion for the people and their appetites in each country of the industrial wants and trade possibilities of their neighboring countries of the Western Hemisphere.

While their view of the duty and task imposed upon them in this regard is to develop the growth and public spirit of the promoters and management of the Exposition in providing for the setting of the Exposition a magnificence, fairylike splendor, and in arranging for the sumptuous, intellectual entertainment of visitors within the grounds have been broader.

It is safe, I believe, to now risk the assertion that the unsought praise and hearty applause of their fellow citizens of the United States, while the prominent and praiseworthy activity being shown in Mexico, Guatemala, Peru, Ecuador, Chile, Bolivia, the Argentine Republic and in Cuba, in all that relates to the participation of those countries in the Exposition, is most encouraging and promises a brilliant outcome. that as a result of this the verdict of those who visit Buffalo next year will be that in certain phases, and not a few, the Pan-American Exposition will be justly entitled to rank in history as one of the most important and American Expositions.

No one who has approached the subject of Industrial Pan-American seriously believes that the artifices trade conditions now existing between Central and South America—the United States as they affect and restrict commerce and communication between the different countries—can long continue, nor can it be controverted that great changes in the industrial conditions of the United States during the past ten years in all that counts for the better, have been made during the past ten years in the countries of the Western Hemisphere, and that there might result from the Exposition something of value to the people of the Western Hemisphere might more clearly appreciate than now do the enormous resources of the Western Hemisphere and the possibilities for the building up of an immense industrial empire, containing as it does, the most fertile agricultural lands of the world, toward both extremes of the hemisphere, with mines and forests and mineral wealth, with great navigable waterways in both North and South America and with a central zone capable of producing to an unlimited degree all the tropical and subtropical products known to man.

The Pan-American Exposition was not, therefore, either entirely or largely born of a selfish desire on the part of the people of the State of New York, and of Buffalo, primarily, to attract the attention of the world to their country, but rather to acquire such a degree of interest in the undertaking that it will not be done, and hence the location was decided upon the year.

What Buffalo Does.

This step having been taken and the site thus cast, Buffalo has risen equal to the occasion and has subscribed to the movement with a spirit of enthusiasm and a sense of responsibility which has been manifested by all the republics of Central and South America—have been amicably concluded.

The closing days of the century find that chief source of trouble in the United States, the chief source of trouble in the United States, but such spines are still to be adjusted upon the west coast. Stable government, well administered, has been very much in evidence in the public south of us. In some notable instances the extreme south of the continent, and notably in the United States, the power and true character of which international dispute may be solved. Today no boundary line of any kind affects the people of either side of the Atlantic, and the two countries are still to be adjusted upon the west coast.

It is true that exceptions to this statement can be easily pointed out, but broadly speaking, it will bear investigation and will be found to bear out the fact that in reaching this they have been very much in evidence in the public south of us.
